The Recen Express Robberies-Important Arrests in Toronto.

From the Toronto Telegraph, Aug. 14. A few days ago, in an article headed "A Shoul of Thieves," we stated that there were in Canada a number of the most expert robbers of the United States, who had been compelescape punishment for crimes comwere in our city, and that they were closely watched by a small party of American detectives, who had been sent here for that purpose. Though it was evident of late some important move was in contemplation on the part of the detectives, they left their intentions to themselves until last evening, when they created an intense excitement and gathered together a large crowd of persons on King street, by arresting several suspicious persons who have been living here was a long one, composed of passenfor the last few weeks.
